

Huge May Day Celebration In Moscow; Stalin Warns Of War

By REMBERT JAMES
Moscow, May 1 (AP)—A colorful demonstration by hundreds of thousands of Moscow's workers and a long parade by soldiers, sailors and airmen, advised by Generalissimo Stalin not to forget for a minute "the intrigues of international reaction which is hatching plans of a new war," marked the Soviet Union's observance of May Day today.

Although the Soviet leader gave first place in his order of the day to "our valiant armed forces," he told his people:

"There is no reason to doubt that in the future the Soviet Union will be true to its policy—the policy of peace and security, the policy of equality and friendship of the peoples."

"Must Guard the Peace"

Stalin exhorted the Russian armed forces to remain strong and increase their effectiveness by lessons learned from the war "on the basis of development of science and technique," but it was noted that the traditional military parade before Lenin's tomb in the Red Square was cut a half hour from the regular two-hour review.

"Now our armed forces are faced with a task of no less importance—vigilantly to guard the peace which was won and the constructive labor of the Soviet people, to be the reliable bulwark of the interest of the Soviet Union."

"The successful accomplishment of this honorable task is possible only on condition of further growth of military culture and military skill of the officers and men of our army, our navy and our aviation."

Strike Threat Raised By Japs; Seeking Fanatic

Tokyo, May 1 (AP)—Organized labor used its occupation won freedom to voice a May day threat of a general strike to support its demand for a leftist government.

Meantime, Japanese police and American forces searched for the fanatic accused of having plotted to assassinate General MacArthur at the height of today's celebration by an estimated 400,000 Japanese in front of the imperial palace.

It was Japan's first May day celebration in 11 years and it passed quietly without a single reported act of violence.

Socialist Kanju Kato, in a labor committee conference with Premier Shidehara, said a nationwide walk-out might be called if a single party cabinet was formed by the rightist liberals. The liberal party won 139 Diet seats in the recent election but failed to gain a majority.

Plotter Still At Large

Shidehara, who resigned his cabinet nine days ago in an election aftermath, agreed to listen to the committee's demands—some voiced angrily—but declined to comment.

The conference followed the assembly which the American provost marshal estimated attracted 400,000 Japanese. The crowd, gathered just a block from MacArthur's headquarters, waved red banners, sang, and heard speeches demanding rights for workers. Then it dispersed in the rain to march through various sections of the capital while Kato's group went to confer with Shidehara.

Armed American soldiers circulated through the crowd, looking for Hideo Tokayama, accused by MacArthur's headquarters of having plotted to kill him with grenades and pistols at the height of today's celebration. An informant now in American custody told MacArthur's aides of the plot.

MAKE SURVEY OF WHEAT AND CORN FOR EUROPEANS

Community committeemen of the Adams County Agricultural Conservation committee will begin Thursday a survey of every farm in the county to determine how much wheat and corn individual farmers will sell to the federal government for the relief of the starving peoples of Europe and the Orient, it was learned today.

A joint meeting of committeemen, feed dealers, and interested farmers will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the court house to complete plans for the campaign to conserve grains for export to starving peoples throughout the world.

Members of the Adams County Emergency Food committee are sending out 12,000 letters to all school children, adults, churches, organizations and the like to interest everyone in the county in saving food.

Committee Members

Members of the committee include Robert C. Myers, C. A. Cluck, Felix Klunk, M. T. Hartman, Richard C. Lighter, Roy A. Weaver, Miss Mildred L. Adams, Mrs. Leroy H. Winebrenner and Harrison P. Snyder, chairman. The group represents the various farm organizations of the county and the Red Cross.

The committee has asked all ministers and priests in the county, to "read this letter to your congregation and Sunday schools on Sunday, May 5, in order that the news may be spread to all the people of the county."

To each school child in the county the Emergency Food committee is sending a letter headed by the drawing of a loaf of bread and the slogan "Stop Waste." The letter states, "This is 'Brown Bread Jack,' round and neat, called the staff of life and made of wheat. He brings this message to the school children of Adams county."

"Thousands of boys and girls are hungry in Europe and other war-torn countries. Our United States of America has promised to send wheat, fats and meats to them by July 1, 1946. If we are to keep our pledge, it is necessary for each one of us to STOP WASTING FOOD, especially flour and bread and fats."

The letter cites ways to save fats, wheat and flour and bread. A similar letter to the parents points out methods of conserving fats and bread.

Cupid Had 34 Jobs Here During April

The number of marriage licenses issued at the court house during April was the largest in recent years, and probably set an all-time record. Thirty-four licenses were issued during the month.

Tojo Says Japs Fought War Of 'Self Protection'

Tokyo, May 1 (AP)—Hideki Tojo insisted today from his prison cell that Japan fought "a war of self protection" and indicated he would face the International War Crimes tribunal with no remorse.

In an exclusive, written interview through his principal Japanese attorney—Ichiro Kiyose—the one-time dictator made his first statements on the war since the occupation.

Tojo acknowledged that he had spoken against Japan's surrender—proposing continued resistance—but denied that he had taken any direct action to forcibly prevent the emperor's surrender.

The bald, stern little man declared he would "express my whole opinion" in court but dodged a question whether he intended to condemn American leaders while presenting his defense.

He said that if, in 1941, Japan could have taken any other way than war "as an independent coun-

TROOP C HERE IS ONLY CAVALRY UNIT IN STATE

All that remains today of Pennsylvania's Cavalry, organized in the early days of the American Revolution, is Gettysburg's Troop C, First Pennsylvania Cavalry—and it has no horses.

The mounted service's history, which began with Philadelphia's first city troopers standing guard for Gen. George Washington, ended with the inactivation of Troops A and B, First Cavalry, of the wartime Pennsylvania Guard Tuesday night.

The reason for the inactivation of the two horse mounted units of the cavalry was given by Lt. Col. Harry G. Banzhoff, of Harrisburg, as follows: "The troops are unable to continue buying feed for their privately owned mounts out of their own funds." The state budget made no provision for the expense because the volunteer outfits had agreed to maintain themselves.

Forming New Units

Adams county's outfit, Troop C, never had horses—but was completely mechanized from its activation as part of the First Cavalry a year ago. Its armored cars need no hay and the gasoline on which they thrive is provided for in the Guard budget.

And the outfits that will carry on the traditions of the "First City Troop" of Philadelphia, the "Governor's Troop" of Harrisburg, the "Sheridan Troop" of Tyrone, and other old-time outfits, will be completely mechanized even though they bear the name of "cavalry."

Among the cavalry units being organized at the present time for the new Pennsylvania National Guard are the 28th Infantry Division's reconnaissance troops and a new corps reconnaissance squadron.

AD SALESMAN GIVEN HEARING

The manner in which H. G. Flinchbaugh, of York, reportedly solicited advertising for a state firemen's convention yearbook was questioned Tuesday by representatives of the Harrisburg fire chief's office at a hearing on Flinchbaugh on charges of false pretense.

Flinchbaugh, who was arrested recently on a warrant issued by Alderman Harry Bowman's office, was released in $500 bail when the hearing was continued to an indefinite date.

Flinchbaugh is reported to have solicited ads in Gettysburg also.

Fire Chief Swartz testified at the hearing that Flinchbaugh, bearing a letter from Ellis Wagner, York fire chief, had come to his office and asked for a letter of introduction to merchants and business men in Harrisburg. Swartz said Flinchbaugh told him he was soliciting advertising for the State firemen's convention yearbook.

"I gave him a letter authorizing him to solicit advertising for the yearbook," Swartz said. "Later, I found out he was using my name in soliciting."

The fire chief's testimony was broken into frequently by Attorney Cohen, of York, who represented Flinchbaugh.

Cohen demanded that Alderman Bowman drop the case because of lack of evidence. Cohen said there was no proof that Flinchbaugh had ever misrepresented himself and that there was no proof that the money in the form of checks given to Flinchbaugh did not go for advertising in the yearbook. "This whole hearing is much ado about nothing."

CODE VIOLATION

Arrested at 9:30 a. m. today by state police on a charge of failing to have an inspection sticker on his automobile, Joseph A. Kettell, Gettysburg R. 5 was fined $2 and costs by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

Ask Public To Save On Electricity Use

Pointing the way to conservation of electricity, because of the crisis developing from the strike in the bituminous coal industry, Metropolitan Edison company will darken the electric signs on all of its buildings for the period of the emergency, and is appealing, through the newspapers, for a voluntary conservation of electricity by all of its customers.

O. E. Benson, vice president of the company said, "We are exercising every possible economy in the operation of our generating stations and under present operating conditions we have sufficient coal to carry us over a period of approximately 25 days. This period can be extended materially with the cooperation of all our customers—residential, commercial and industrial—by reducing their use of electricity to minimum requirements."

It has been emphasized that the first consideration of the company is the assurance of electric service to all places where discontinuance might affect the health, welfare and safety of the community.

It was announced questionnaires have been sent to the various district conventions in an effort to determine the selection of courses to be offered at the Leadership Training School which will be held next November.

APRIL MARKED BY SHORTAGE OF RAINFALL

The traditional April showers were conspicuous by their absence in Gettysburg and Adams county last month.

Official weather records of Dr. Henry Stewart, local observer, show rainfall here in April totaled a scant .87 inches, which was 2.78 inches below the normal figure for Gettysburg.

April's lack of rain prolonged a rainfall shortage that has been building up since the beginning of the year. January was two inches short on precipitation; February lacked 36 inches of being a normal month and March was .89 inches below normal, so that to date 1946 is slightly more than six inches short on rainfall.

Extremes Recorded

Measurable amounts of rain fell on only eight days last month and the "heaviest" rain of the month occurred last Friday when slightly more than a quarter-inch fell in a 24-hour period. Fourteen days last month were recorded as clear, 10 as partly cloudy and six others as cloudy.

Extreme weather conditions were recorded in April. There were high winds on the 15th, sleet on the 8th, a high temperature of 87 degrees on the 23rd and freezing temperatures on April 7, 11, 13, 21 and 28.

Despite the five dips to and below the freezing point during April, the month as a whole was warmer than a normal April here. The average temperature for the month was 52.5 degrees and local records show that is 1.8 degrees above the "normal mean" temperature for April in Gettysburg. The coldest day of the month was April 11 when the mercury sank four degrees below freezing.

Fire Chief Swartz testified at the hearing that Flinchbaugh, bearing a letter from Ellis Wagner, York fire chief, had come to his office and asked for a letter of introduction to merchants and business men in Harrisburg. Swartz said Flinchbaugh told him he was soliciting advertising for the State firemen's convention yearbook.

"I gave him a letter authorizing him to solicit advertising for the yearbook," Swartz said. "Later, I found out he was using my name in soliciting."

The fire chief's testimony was broken into frequently by Attorney Cohen, of York, who represented Flinchbaugh.

Cohen demanded that Alderman Bowman drop the case because of lack of evidence. Cohen said there was no proof that Flinchbaugh had ever misrepresented himself and that there was no proof that the money in the form of checks given to Flinchbaugh did not go for advertising in the yearbook. "This whole hearing is much ado about nothing."

AD SALESMAN GIVEN HEARING

The manner in which H. G. Flinchbaugh, of York, reportedly solicited advertising for a state firemen's convention yearbook was questioned Tuesday by representatives of the Harrisburg fire chief's office at a hearing on Flinchbaugh on charges of false pretense.

Flinchbaugh, who was arrested recently on a warrant issued by Alderman Harry Bowman's office, was released in $500 bail when the hearing was continued to an indefinite date.

Flinchbaugh is reported to have solicited ads in Gettysburg also.

SIMLA CONFAB FATEFUL FOR INDIA FUTURE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The round-table conference which is assembling at Simla up in the Himalayas to deal with question of India's independence from England must be counted as among the most fateful of the numerous international parleys which are trying to iron out the problems of our troubled world.

The position is so delicate that a breath would change the balance. The trail to Simla winds back through long years, and it is marked with blood. Now representatives of the warring Indian political factions—the all-India congress (largely comprised of Hindus) and the Moslem league—are to face each other across the table. With them will sit down the envoys of Mother England who has agreed to give up the brightest jewel in her imperial crown.

An amicable agreement would be a boon not only to India's four hundred millions (one fifth of the globe's population) but would remove a menace to peace. A failure might be catastrophic.

Two Aging Men

Upon the shoulders of two aging men rests the outcome in major degree. They are Mahatma Gandhi power behind the all-India congress forces, and his political foe, Mohammed Ali Jinnah, president of the Moslem league. If they can reconcile their differences, there likely can be peace and freedom.

A compromise won't be easy, since Jinnah has been holding out for an independent Moslem state (Pakistan) and Gandhi has been equally insistent on a unified federal government. Both men are as stubborn as Missouri mules. Still the mere fact that these two old warriors finally are sitting down together gives hope—though not unlimited optimism—for previous. It had been expected that Jinnah would demand the concession of Pakistan before joining in a roundtable conference.

I'm sure you and I would find it interesting if we could sit in at this conference, for I've spent much time in fascinating Simla and know the Mahatma and Jinnah personally. The spot-light will be centered on these two great and colorful personalities.

Gandhi is 78 years old and Jinnah is eight years younger. Both are lawyers and studied in London. Each is chain-lightning mentally and quick on the verbal draw. The likelihood stops there, however.

Hindu And Moslem

Jinnah is a dyed-in-the-wool Moslem while the Mahatma is a Hindu and therefore theoretically the enemy of any Moslem. Actually Gandhi's personal religion encompasses the good in many creeds, and he has told me that the greatest inspiration in his life has been the sermon on the Mount. Jinnah is rich, and I've been entertained in his Palatial home on the hill overlooking Bombay harbor. The little Mahatma hasn't a bean with which to bless his name, and I've sat cross-legged with him on the floor.

Simla clings precariously to the side of a steep mountain about which it curves for six miles. Because it is lovely and cool, the government of India moves up there at this time of year when the plain radiates heat like a furnace. And that's why the conference is being held in Simla—a lofty setting for lofty thoughts, we hope.

NEW STRIKES LOOM TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

New and threatening strikes and a possible slow-down in government efforts to settle the critical soft coal dispute darkened the nation's labor picture today, at the start of the merry month of May.

A transit strike in Atlanta, Ga., inconvenienced thousands. Coal production in Illinois was at a complete shutdown by a walkout of 18,000 independent miners. A nationwide work stoppage of workers that would tie up the country's terminal elevators threatened. A transit strike in Memphis, Tenn., was called off when an agreement on wages was reached.

And in Washington, the resumption of negotiations between John L. Lewis and bituminous operators was highlighted by the threatened withdrawal of special federal conciliator Paul W. Fuller. He expressed dissatisfaction with the government's handling of the month old walkout by 400,000 AFL soft coal miners, but agreed to reconsider his surprise resignation. He said he would give Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach his answer today.

Fuller's threatened withdrawal came after Lewis, president of the AFL United Mine Workers, filed notice that the 75,000 Pennsylvania anthracite miners would quit work in 30 days if they are not given a contract—with approximately the same demands he has presented to the operators for the soft coal miners.

MOTHER TALKS TO 'SLAIN' SON

Scranton, May 1 (P)—For the first time in her life Mrs. Helen Tronko, this city, used the telephone last night and the person she spoke with was her son, Pvt. Michael Tronko, 32, who had been reported by the War Department as having lost his life on Okinawa on May 22, 1945.

While officials of the Scranton chapter, American Red Cross, her daughter and other relatives stood around trying to catch parts of the telephone conversation, Mrs. Tronko, who doesn't speak English, spoke in Polish to her son, who is in Letterman General hospital, San Francisco, Cal. The woman's face was wreathed in smiles and her eyes danced with joy as she conversed excitedly with the soldier she had given up for dead.

Nearly one year ago Mrs. Tronko was notified that her son, Michael, who had been in service over three years, was missing on Okinawa. Several weeks ago the government sent another message saying he was presumed to be dead. Then a friend of the family, a sailor, said he visited Michael's grave at Okinawa, and last week the government made a posthumous award of the Purple Heart to Mrs. Tronko in memory of her son.

Last Monday the Adjutant General's office notified Mrs. Tronko that her son had bobbed up alive and was in the Letterman hospital. Red Cross officials contacted her and made arrangements for the telephone conversation last night. Michael is scheduled to be moved to a hospital closer to home soon.

Senate Inquires About Big 4 Plan

Washington, May 1 (P)—The proposed Big Four 25-year agreement to keep Germany impotent for war aroused Senate inquiries today about how long American troops are expected to remain in Europe and what future is planned for the German people.

The proposal advanced by Secretary of State Byrnes at the Paris conference met generally favorable reaction, although Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) said he doubted substantial American forces can be kept in Germany for 25 years.

"However," he told a reporter, "if we can relieve Russia's fears of aggression on the part of Germany to the extent that the Soviets will withdraw their troops and permit independent governments to be set up in the Baltic and Balkan states, it would mean a tremendous lot for world peace."

Senator Brooks (R-Ill.) said he, too, wants to see Germany kept disarmed, but not forcibly reduced to an agricultural state.

Distillers Slash Production Schedule

Washington, May 1 (P)—The nation's whiskey-makers slashed their production schedules 40 per cent today in line with the government's newest effort to scrape up grain for famine relief.

It was the sharpest reduction imposed on the industry since peacetime distilling was partially resumed, but it coincided with a fresh official warning that the present world food crisis will continue into 1947.

An Agricultural Department order cut distillers' use of grain during May from the five days production capacity allowed during the past two months to three days.

The effect will be to delay still further a return of plentiful quality liquors. But an industry spokesman in New York said there is no immediate prospect of a liquor shortage.

ATOMIC EXPERT GETS 10 YEARS

London, May 1 (P)—Dr. Alan Nunn May, young British physicist who worked on nuclear research in Canada during the wartime pursuit of atomic energy, was sentenced to 10 years in prison today after pleading guilty to violation of the British official secrets act.

The 34-year-old May, who was arrested last March, was specifically accused of communicating "to some person unknown certain information calculated to be, or which might be directly or indirectly, useful to an enemy."

The "enemy" was not specified, the prosecution declaring merely that it might be "any potential enemy."

Others Arrested

His arrest, however, followed closely the launching of a Canadian investigation into alleged Soviet espionage activities which Canadian Prime Minister Mackenzie King said extended through the dominion into the United States and Britain.

Several persons are under arrest in Canada in connection with that investigation.

May appeared pale and hollow-eyed as he entered the dock at old Bailey to answer the charge.

Pleads Guilty

Asked how he would plead, May hesitated, glanced at his attorney, and then replied quietly: "Guilty."

According to the prosecution, May held a vital position in the Nuclear research team sent to Canada in 1943 to work on atomic research.

He was said to have served on two committees which gave him access to secret reports and the latest information on the production of uranium. Although he was not working directly on the atomic bomb.

SERVICE SUNDAY FOR SGT. FREAM

Memorial services for Staff Sgt. Ellwood E. Fream, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fream, Taneytown, will be held Sunday, May 5, at 2 p. m. in St. Paul's Lutheran church, Harney, Md. His pastor, the Rev. W. F. Rex, Gettysburg, will officiate. The Hesson-Snyder American Legion Post of Taneytown will participate, and former service men and friends of Sgt. Fream are invited to attend the services.

Staff Sergeant Fream who had been serving as waist gunner and assistant engineer on a B-17 Flying Fortress bomber had been reported missing since April 7, 1945, and in a letter recently received by his parents from the War Department at Washington his status was officially pronounced as dead.

He was a graduate of Taneytown high school class of 1943, and prior to entering the service he was employed as store clerk by Harry B. Daugherty, Taneytown. He entered the service February 8, 1944, received his training at Keesler Field, Miss., Las Vegas, Nev., and Alexandria, La., going overseas in November, 1944.

According to information from the outfit to which he was attached and official army sources the mission of the bomber on the day he was presumed lost was Kelsenkirchen airfield near Hamburg. Before getting to the target they were intercepted by a large force of German planes and a severe battle in the skies took place. During the engagement the right wing of Sgt. Fream's machine was set on fire. However, the crew continued on to the target, with their wing afire, dropped their bombs and stayed with the formation. When out over the North sea, as their situation grew more perilous, their flight commander ordered them to fall out of formation and head for the nearest land which was Denmark. They prepared for bailing out and were waiting for the signal, but at the sound of the signal the right wing blew off and the plane went into a tailspin. Their altitude at this time was 15,000 feet. This was the sergeant's 33rd mission. He needed just two more to fill his quota.

Will Salvage Used Ballots

Harrisburg, May 1 (P)—Used paper ballots from the May Primary and November General Election will be salvaged as waste paper under a directive issued today by Governor Martin.

The executive acted under a 1945 law, which permits him to suspend a provision of the general election code requiring destruction of all ballots.

Martin ordered the ballots saved because of the continuing paper shortage. He said the eastern conservation committee of the waste paper consuming industries certified that the industry is unable to obtain sufficient waste paper from regular sources for production of materials critically needed for re-conversion.

Martin recommended that county election boards dispose of the used ballots to local waste material dealers.

Washington, May 1 (P)—Price controls were suspended indefinitely today on all canned, frozen and preserved berries and berry products except cranberries. OPA acted with the approval of Stabilization Director Chester Bowles, after the Department of Agriculture reported that 1946 crop of berries would be 35 to 40 per cent larger than last year, thus relieving the supply shortage.

EASTERN LOOP IS WIDE OPEN, MANAGERS SAY

Albany, N. Y., May 1 (AP)—The Class A eastern baseball league begins its 24th season today with the managers predicting a wide open race and greatly improved play over the wartime caliber.

Record opening day crowds are expected at these first peacetime inaugurals since 1941: Hartford at Albany and Elmira at Williamsport this afternoon; Utica at Binghamton and Scranton at Wilkes-Barre tonight.

The champion Utica Blue Sox and Scranton Miners, 5th last season, are pre-season favorites despite the managers' caution of an unpredictable race because of the quality of reinforcements expected from higher leagues.

Dick (Wiggles) Porter, who believes his Wilkes-Barre Barons are much stronger than his 1945 second-place club, declared:

To See Better Ball

"I figure the league is 40 per cent stronger and this means the fans will see much better baseball. The Barons are vastly improved and if our pitching holds up we'll be in the thick of the pennant fight. Because all clubs are counting on returned servicemen and most of us will be getting help from the triple-A minors soon, no team appears to have an edge."

Gerard Lipscomb, new manager of the Williamsport Grays, eighth last season, said: "We will finish much higher."

Other managers (with their teams' 1945 position indicated) said: Jim (Rip) Collins, Albany, (3rd): "My club seems to have pitching good enough for this league if we can hit a lick. We still hope to strengthen x x x and one or two players capable of hitting that long ball would help us greatly."

Has Pennant Hopes
Fred (Dutch) Dorman, Hartford (4th): "I'm not so rash as to pick the chiefs to win the pennant, but I see no reason why we shouldn't finish in first division and possibly be an outstanding pennant contender."

Ralph Winegarner, Elmira (6th): "I'm quite pleased with our club as it stands—and we are expecting more strength from Toledo shortly. Our players are unknown to the league but I feel we will have a first division team. Scranton and Utica have been rated highly, but I look at this time for an open race."

Eddie Sawyer, Utica (1st): "We are stronger at the start of this season than we were in May, 1945. As usual we'll have a hustling ball club and that's the kind of a team that's mighty hard to beat."

Garland Braxton, Binghamton (7th), said that he believed in playing his games on the field, not in print.

Elmer Yoter, Scranton (5th), had no comment.

INTERSTATE TO OPEN TONIGHT

(By The Associated Press)
The class B Interstate league opens its 1946 campaign tonight with last year's champion Lancaster Red Roses invading the home diamond of Wilmington's Blue Rocks in the circuit's feature attraction.

Though most managers reported some improvement in their teams, it was generally agreed by newsmen who covered the loop in pre-season training that Wilmington was the team to beat.

Lancaster, which edged Wilmington in a nip-and-tuck pennant race last year, is expected to field only a "fair" club. The Red Roses are a Philadelphia athletics farm club. Harry Shuman is slated to be on the mound for Wilmington, opposing Lancaster's Tex Kardow.

Two New Entries
Sunbury and Harrisburg, newcomers to the league this season, both play away from home—Sunbury tangle with the Trenton Owls, reported vastly improved with the help of extra talent supplied by the New York Giants. Trenton's Paul Saas will race John Szajna on the mound.

Harrisburg meets the York White Roses, the cellar-dwellers last year. The White Roses will open with Stan McMurray, who failed to make the grade with the parent Pittsburgh Tigers, opposing Ray Girdley.

In the final game, Allentown—an affiliate of the St. Louis Cardinal chain system—plays Hagerstown on the latter's field. Allentown's pitcher is expected to be Carl Wollgast. He will oppose Eddie Ancherico.

All games during the season, except Sunday contests, will be played at night.

Says He Rejected Offer From Mexico

Reading, Pa. May 1 (AP)—George (Whitey) Kuroski, third baseman for the St. Louis Cardinals of the National League, says he rejected an offer of $75,000 to play five seasons in the Mexican league.

Kuroski told the Reading Times last night in a telephone conversation from St. Louis, that an agent of the Pasquel brothers offered him an additional $12,500 to sign a contract.

FELLER HURLS NO-HIT GAME TO BEAT YANKS

By JACK HAND

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Bobby Feller's brilliant no-hit, no-run job against the New York Yankees should still once and for all the springtime rumors that rapid Robert had lost his fast one.

"My fast ball was my best pitch all the way," Feller said in the clubhouse after the ball game, "but I also used a lot of curves and sliders. I believe I had better stuff than when I pitched my other no-hitter against the White Sox in the 1940 opener."

Feller was amused and slightly pained about reports he was "slipping." Before the game, Manager Lou Boudreau shrugged off questions about Feller with a quiet, "wait until after the game and then talk to me." After the game, nobody asked any questions.

Feller now has 39 strikeouts victim in four games, counting the 11 he whipped in yesterday's 1-0 Cleveland victory over New York. He walked five Yanks in chucking his second no-hitter, becoming one of a select group of 11 who have done the trick in the history of the Majors. Two hurlers, Lawrence Corcoran of the Chicago Cubs and Cy Young of Cleveland and Boston (both leagues) have three to their credit but even that mark is not out of Feller's reach.

Record Broken

It was the second near perfect game in a week as Ed Head of Brooklyn had throttled Boston without a safety last Tuesday. Never in the history of the Yankee stadium had the home club been held hitless and a Yankee team hadn't gone without a safe blow in a game since 1919 when Ray Caldwell, another pitcher, did the trick.

Floyd Bevens matched Feller goose egg for goose egg up to the ninth when Frankie Hayes, Bobby's batterymate, planted a home run in the left field stands. The tribe ace had a close call in the ninth when an error, sacrifice and an infield out moved George Stinewiss around to third with two out but Charley Keller rolled out to second baseman Ray Mack to lift the suspense and loosen a throaty roar from the banner weekday crowd of 37,144 fans.

Only two others reached second base and both died there as Feller was superb under pressure. The only fielding play of note was a sparkler by Boudreau who raced across second base from his short-stop post to grab a roller off Stinewiss' bat and throw him out by a step in the first inning.

Newhouse Humbled
Feller's sterling job overshadowed a fine effort by Joe Dobson of the Boston Red Sox who handed Detroit's Hal Newhouse his first setback, 4-0, lengthening his club's American league lead to two full games. Dobson, an ex-GI, allowed only three hits in racking up his third straight decision.

Ray Scarborough turned in a winning performance for Washington, outpointing Ed Lopat of Chicago, 3-2, with the help of Buddy Lewis' tie-breaking double scoring Al Evans in the seventh.

The Philadelphia Athletics out-scrambled the St. Louis Browns, 12-8, in a wild affair in which eight pitchers saw action. Starter Russ Christopher was the victor and Tex Shirley, who opened for the Browns, was the loser.

The Chicago Cubs knocked the Brooklyn Dodgers out of the National league lead with an 11th inning 2-1 verdict.

Although rain and wet grounds forced postponement of their game with New York, the idle St. Louis Cardinals took over first place by a half game. A Cincinnati-Boston series opener also was washed out.

Pittsburgh broke out with three runs in the eighth inning to snap a 1-1 tie and assure the Pirates of a 4-1 nod over the Phillies.

Littlestown took over the leadership in the Adams County Scholastic Baseball league by defeating York Springs 2-1 in an extra inning game played Tuesday afternoon at York Springs.

The game, probably the best in the loop this season, required eight innings after Crouse, first man up for Littlestown in the top half of the seventh, poled a homerun to tie the score at 1-1 after Littlestown had led 1-0 since the second inning. In the extra inning Swartz singled and tallied the winning run on Mehrling's double. York Springs' tally came on Myers' triple and a fielder's choice.

East Berlin tabbed four runs in the first inning and then went on to gain a 6-2 victory at the expense of Fairfield on the latter's field. Himes, held Fairfield to three hits, two of which were secured by Brown.

ans when the 42nd world championship event began March 14. At that time, tournament veterans estimated a 2,700 team figure would be the minimum to qualify for a prize.

Announcing revised estimates, Eli Whitney, ABC press representative, said today a 2,650 gross would share in the five-man money, while an 1,120 would win money in the doubles.

Early in the meet, ABC officials predicted a 600 would be necessary to qualify for the singles prize list. Now they estimate a 570 will be included. A 1,775 is expected to share in the all-events purse.

WILLIAMS WINS FROM BOLANOS

Los Angeles, May 1 (AP)—NBA Lightweight Champion Ike Williams smashed out a convincing eighth-round technical knockout over Enrique Bolanos last night in his first title defense and promptly hurled a deft at Bob Montgomery, lightweight ruler in New York and Pennsylvania.

Williams worked up only a mild sweat in knocking down the Mexican challenger four times from the third round on, before Referee Benny Whitman stopped the fight after two minutes, 12 seconds of the eighth. The bout was scheduled for 15 heats.

"I want a shot at Montgomery now," was the post-fight word from Williams, who won the NBA title a year ago from Juan Zurita. Williams planned to leave today for his Trenton, N. J., home.

As for Bolanos, Williams declared: "He wasn't as good as I thought he'd be, but he's a young boy and got a lot of heart."

RIPPEY IS HOPE FOR DERBY DAY

By SID FEDER

Louisville, Ky., May 1 (AP)—William Hells must be convinced that horse-buying is a funny business, because he can now boast of paying $66,000 for one gee-gee which turned out to be the most expensive "pet" in history—and only $12,000 to get the latest glamour boy in Saturday's Kentucky Derby.

This is not saying that Rippey is wearing that necklace of roses already, because Derby dandies still have to run a mile and a quarter around the race track, and Lord Boswell and Knockdown still are the young men most likely to succeed in a field that appears virtually certain to number 17 horses for this 72nd get-together.

But off his smashing score in the Derby trial mile yesterday, the Virginia-born swiftness might very well be the one they'll be hanging that lavalliere of buds on late Saturday afternoon.

Other Possibles

Of course, in this widest open Derby in years any horse might hit the jackpot. Even Charlie Fisher's Sp Song, although the way he seemed to turn in his ticket when Rippey issued a challenge in the stretch yesterday left considerably more than a few doubters among the 20,000 or so at the Downs.

The mud-running Rippey gave definite proof that he's just about as sharp as you'll find around Churchill Downs right now, especially if it comes up slop, as it did yesterday.

BEAR HUNTING DATES CHANGED

Harrisburg, May 1 (AP)—The State Game Commission has agreed to a request made by the Federation of Sportsmen's clubs and shifted the dates for the annual bear season. Bear may be hunted from Nov. 18 through Nov. 23, a week earlier than in 1945.

"We had quite a few requests from sportsmen and farmers that we allow more time between the bear and deer seasons," a commission spokesman said yesterday in announcing the new dates.

The deer season remains the same, Dec. 1 through Dec. 15, the spokesman explained.

Need More Time

He added that different groups of hunters go after the two types of large game and when the seasons come close together, farmers claim they "don't have an opportunity to change the bedding" in hunting camps.

The first move to increase the space between the seasons came at the annual convention of sportsmen's clubs when a resolution was unanimously adopted requesting the

Has been welcomed in with laugh-

Song and dance and childhood's play!
Let what must come following
after!
Bad and bloom and fat bees buzzin',
Fairest month of all the dozen.

Free once more are brook and river, Blue the heavens and green the grasses.
Wind that set the flesh a-shiver
Now leaves perfume as it passes.
Everywhere the world seems brighter,
All hearts just a little lighter.

Braid again the ribbon streamers;
Sing you children as you're danc-

Here's the month when all are dreamers—
Month of beautiful romancing,
Month that care from hearts can
cozen,
Loveliest month of all the dozen.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

WE-IN OURSELVES
You can tell by the look in all too many faces these days that it isn't very light inside. Lights are needed in the heart. We—in ourselves, need a new glow to carry us over the big humps of fear and doubt.

Every inward prayer is new fuel
placed in the open fire of our soul.
And how we need it. How the entire world needs it! Faith and confidence need plenty of this warmth to keep their blood streams at an even and healthy flow. We—in ourselves, are a bit of God at work.

The greatest—and most important—problem in this world right now is to feed the hungry in body and in heart. This is no time in which to poison the mind, as many nations are doing in their so-called propaganda. Political power is crushing the "last best hope" from the heart of the world. Feed the bodies of the hungry, but the next great campaign must be to educate the spirit.

Inward happiness is the only happiness that counts. There are great forces at work, these confusing days,
inside people's minds and hearts.
Only a spiritual revival—widespread and with increasing purpose, can give this sick world its dreamed-of hope and confidence in the future of mankind.

Each one of us—we, in ourselves
—can do our part, seemingly small as it may appear to be, but all important. "God works in a mysterious way his wonders to perform."
God is still in his heaven, as Browning once wrote, but all is not right with the world. There is a right spirit yet to be created. And this responsibility rests upon each one of us, as well as upon those in high places of influence and power.

We—in ourselves, must never give up our faith, nor allow it to grow thin. It is the one refuge for our moments of fear and doubt. We can retire at any time of the day or night, that we are awake, and give

AMISH REQUEST ALL OBJECTORS BE SENT HOME

Lancaster, Pa., May 1 (P)—The 13 bishops who govern the House
Amish religion insist manpower not tractors will produce more food on their farms and ask release of conscientious objectors now doing "unimportant work in service camps"
while people "may be starving in Europe."

"The war is over and we can use them," the bishops said.

The statement, first public announcement ever made by the sect, broke centuries-old silence against criticism of their "plain ways."

Replying to a request that the 1,000 House Amish farmers in richly-fertile Lancaster county use tractors — contrary to their religious beliefs — to pull farm equipment,
the bishops asserted:

"Urging the Amish to use tractors at the present time is simply out of the question, both from the standpoint of the church and from the standpoint that you can't buy any tractors."

Use Horses and Mules
The House Amish, different from the Church Amish because they worship in homes, are bound by the Bible to use only horses and mules to plow and harrow the soil. Plain folk, wearing dark clothes always by heritage, they refuse to take human life or swear to an oath. The men never cut their hair or beards.

Clyde A. Zehner, chairman of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Adjustment administration, touched off the controversy Sunday when he appealed to the House Amish to use tractors to help thousands of starving Europeans.

Assistant County Farm Agent H.
S. Sloot said use of tractors would relieve the acute farm labor shortage. To this view the bishop objected, urging immediate release of conscientious objectors.

Experienced Farmers
"Why not send these boys home
to us?" they asked. "Practically every one is an experienced farmer.
We could increase production even more than we have. These boys know our farms and our methods.

The war is over and we can use
them."

Moreover, two of the bishops —
Aaron Ash of Monterey, Pa., and Ben Bieler of New Holland, Pa. — insisted the House Amish grow more food with horse-drawn plows than other farmers produce with tractors.

"We can only point to our experience," Bishop Ash said. "Time and again, members of the House Amish have proved that a good horse and love of hard work can grow more food than a worldly contraption. A tractor gets the work done more quickly but it tempts one to postpone what has to be done."

BLUE RIDGE BUS STRIKE AVERTED
Pittsburgh, May 1 (P)—Five minutes before the deadline, officials of the AFL-Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railways and Motor Coach Employees last night called off a strike that would have disrupted Blue Ridge line bus service in the tri-state area.

Some 115 drivers and other employees of the Penn and White Star
lines in the Ohio-Pennsylvania-West Virginia region had voted to go out at midnight in a demand for a 30 cents hourly wage increase.

At the last moment, company and union agreed to continue negotiations. A conference will be held Friday at the union's international office in Philadelphia.

Refused To Arbitrate
The company had made a counter-offer of raises ranging up to 12 cents an hour; and the union asked that the wage issue be submitted to arbitration. This the company refused to do.

Penn bus operates lines between Pittsburgh and New Kensington, Pa., Wheeling, W. Va., and Steubenville, O.; White Star lines run between Pittsburgh, Washington, Waynesburg and Uniontown, Pa., and Morgantown and Clarksburg, W. Va.

Three other bus strikes also were averted yesterday. Harmony Short Line drivers accepted their company's offer of a 15-cent hourly increase. Mon Valley Bus company drivers agreed to continue work this week while their union officials ponder a 15-cent raise offer. Penn Transit drivers in the McKeesport area
voted to stay on the job while negotiations continue.

Things Of
The Soil
The Striped Cucumber Beetle
Full control of the destructive striped cucumber beetle is hampered by lack of knowledge about this pest and its habits of feeding. There are, in fact, four important points to remember in planning a campaign of effective beetle control: (1) The adult beetle feeds on cucumber and related cucurbit plants soon after the seed germinates; (2) The young grubs or larvae which hatch from eggs laid by the female beetle often destroy plants by feeding on the roots and stems near or slightly below the ground level; (3) Both the larvae and beetles may carry bacterial wilt to cucumbers and related vegetables; and (4) The beetles often continue their ravages by rendering cucumber blossoms sterile through later feeding.

The striped cucumber beetle is well known and is easily identified by three longitudinal stripes of black along its back or wing covers, its black head and yellow thorax and wings. It measures about one-fourth inch in length and spends its winter
as an adult, hibernated beneath litter or in the top soil in or near the garden. It emerges soon after early cucumbers are planted and usually attacks young plants as soon as leaves appear.

It is impossible to prevent cucurbit wilt without strict control of the striped beetle. Even a few occasional visits of this pest to young plants may introduce wilt bacteria and thus provide a source of infection from which the disease spreads to other plants. Too much emphasis cannot be placed on early and complete extermination of beetles as the only successful means of preventing bacterial wilt. No sprays are effective against this disease.

Small gardeners with but a few hills of cucumbers may protect their plants from striped beetles by covering the hills with fine netting or screen or cheesecloth. To do this, form a frame over each hill with two loops of stout wire, the ends
stuck into the ground and the loops crossing each other at right angles above the center of the hill. The covering should be fastened securely with soil heaped over the lower edges to prevent beetles crawling beneath. Ordinary wire screen or mosquito netting will not bar the pests;
the covering must be of fine mesh.

Many commercial gardeners keep cucumber plants dusted with a mixture of 1 pound of calcium arsenate
in 15 pounds of fine gypsum (land plaster). Success with this, as with other insecticides, depends on keeping the leaves uniformly coated on both sides, also the soil around the plants. Another effective dust is made of 2 pounds of cryolite and 1 pound of talc. Or a spray may be employed, composed of 1 ounce (6 level teaspoonfuls) of cryolite in 1 gallon of water.

Rotene is coming into wide use against the striped beetle, used as a dust, a commercial ready-prepared mixture containing at least 5 percent rotenone. Another effective dust is made by mixing 5 teaspoon-fuls of 40 percent nicotine sulphate
in 1 pound of fine hydrated lime.

Last Wacs Leave Indiantown Gap
Indiantown Gap, Pa., May 1 (P)—
The last of the WAC's have left the Indiantown Gap Military reservation and Tuesday only a handful of officers, enlisted men, and civilian employees remained on "Division Hill."

The sprawling reservation, where at one time thousands of men trained for overseas duty, is nearly deserted. In one small area of frame buildings a few black shirted German war prisoners remain to do necessary chores. Another small group of medics and nurses are found at a dispensary.

But the WAC's are gone. The last bus load left yesterday, with 17
aboard, some singing as they went,
but a few had tears in their eyes
as they left the spot they had called home for many months.

Last week there was a conference called to discuss the possibility of turning the post over to a G. I.
college.

Manila, May 1 (P)—President-elect Manuel A. Roxas, who will guide the Philippines republic
through its critical first years, received the good wishes Monday of Sergio Osmena, who conceded defeat. With tabulation of last week's election nearly completed, Roxas held a 183,000-vote lead over Osmena, incumbent president.

IVANHOE
Chapter 25

The Grand Master commenced the proceedings of the day.

"We have summoned to our presence a Jewish woman, by name Rebecca, daughter of Isaac of York—a woman infamous for sorceries and for witcheries; whereby she hath maddened the blood, and besotted the brain, not of a churl but of a Knight—not of a Knight Companion, but of a Preceptor of our order, first in honours as in place. Our brother, Brian de Bois-Guilbert, is well known to ourselves, and to all, as a true and zealous champion of the cross. Knights, both in eastern and western lands, have named De Bois-Guilbert as one who may well be put in nomination as successor to this baton, when it shall please Heaven to release us from the toil of bearing it. If we were told that such a man, so honoured, and so honourable, had associated to himself a Jewish damsel, what should we say but that the noble knight was possessed by some evil demon, or influenced by some wicked spell. Stand forth, therefore, and bear witness, ye who have witnessed these unhappy doings, that we may judge of the sum and bearing thereof; and judge whether our justice may be satisfied with the punishment of this infidel woman, or if we must go on, with a bleeding heart, to the further proceeding against our brother."

A general murmur of assent ran through the room.

"Were it not well, brethren," said the Grand Master, "that we examine something into the former life and conversation of this woman, specially that we may discover whether she be one likely to use magical charms and spells? Let those who have aught to witness of the life and conversation of this Jewish woman, stand forth before us."

There was a bustle in the lower part of the hall, and a poor peasant, a Saxon by birth, was dragged forward to the bar, terrified at the penal consequences which he might have incurred by the guilt of having been cured of the palsy by a Jewish damsel. Most unwilling was his testimony, and given with many tears; but he admitted that he had been unable to stir from his bed until the remedies applied by Rebecca's directions, had in some degree restored him to the use of his limbs.

"And may it please your gracious reverence," said the man, "I cannot think the damsel meant harm by me, though she hath the ill hap to be a Jewess."

"Peace, slave," said the Grand Master, "and begone!"

The two men-at-arms, with whom Albert Malvoisin had not failed to communicate upon the import of their testimony, were now called forward.

The first set forth that Rebecca was heard to mutter to herself in an unknown tongue; that the songs she sung by fits were of a strangely sweet sound, which made the ears of the hearer tingle, and his heart throb; that she spoke at times to herself, and seemed to look upward for a reply; that her garments were of a strange and mystic form, unlike those of women of good repute; that she had rings impressed with cabalistical devices, and that strange characters were brodered on her vail. The other had seen her work a cure upon a wounded man brought with them to the castle of Torquilstone. This fellow stated that he had seen Rebecca perch herself upon the parapet of the turret, and there take the form of a milk-white swan, under which appearance she flitted three times round the castle of Torquilstone; then again settle on the turret, and once more assume the female form.

The Grand Master, now in a solemn tone, demanded of Rebecca what she had to say against the sentence of condemnation which he was about to pronounce.

"To invoke your pity," said the lovely Jewess, with a voice somewhat tremulous with emotion, "would I am aware, be as useless as I should hold it mean. Nor will I even vindicate myself at the expense of my oppressor. I will not therefore return to himself the charge brought against me—but to himself—yes, Brian de Bois-Guilbert, to thyself I appeal whether these accusations are not false? as monstrous and calumnious as they are deadly?"

There was a pause; all eyes turned to Brian de Bois-Guilbert. He was silent.

"Speak," she said, "if thou art a man, if thou art a Christian, speak!"

In fact, Bois-Guilbert seemed agitated by contending passions which almost convulsed his features, and it was with a constrained voice that at last he replied, looking to Rebecca—"The scroll!—the scroll!"

"Ay," said Beaumanoir, "this is indeed testimony! The victim of her witcheries can only name the fatal scroll, the spell inscribed on which is, doubtless, the cause of his silence."

But Rebecca put another interpretation on the words extorted as it were from Bois-Guilbert, and glancing her eye upon the slip of parchment which she continued to hold in her hand, she read written thereupon in the Arabian character, Demand a Champion!

"There is yet one chance of life left to me," said Rebecca. "I deny this charge; I maintain my innocence, and I declare the falsehood of this accusation. I challenge the privilege of trial by combat, and will appear by my champion. Where so many are ready to peril their lives for honour, there will be found one to fight for justice. But it is enough that I challenge the trial by combat—there lies my gage."

She took her embroidered glove from her hand and flung it down before the Grand Master with an air of mingled simplicity and dignity which excited universal surprise and admiration.

Says Railroads Need Tax Funds

Pittsburgh, May 1 (AP)—Gustav Metzman, president of the New York Central railroad, told industrial and railroad leaders last night that America needs a sound policy governing the investment of tax money in transportation facilities. "Government investment in highways, waterways, airports and airways exceeds private investment in railroads," Metzman said in an address to the traffic club of Pittsburgh. "However, private investment in railroads is taxable and must be self-supporting."

"This railway investment cannot live alongside of government investment in competing facilities unless the government investment is also made self-supporting—unless the taxpayer is given a chance to get his money back."

Metzman recommended that people using publicly owned transportation facilities "pay their way" through "fair user charges and through paying a fair share of the taxes for the general support of the government."

REMINISCENCES

70 Years in Gettysburg

By DR. HENRY STEWART

THE TOWN

For many years it was referred to

as a static concern—"sleepy little Dutch town." For its first 80 years

it was certainly very slow of growth.

It may have been "sleepy" but it never was Dutch. Examination of the records will show that in the past 70 years its progress has really been considerable.

The Commissioner's plot of the town of 1841 shows that to the original

as laid out for General Gettys,

two areas had been added—"Troxell's Addition" (the third square from Chambersburg to High street) and the extension from the alley

south of High street, over Baltimore

hill to about the present location

of Breckenridge street.

When these additions were made,

I have found nothing, but the latter must (it would seem) have been made prior to 1800, for the Commissioners held quit-rents on the lots, while they did not on the lots of Troxell's Addition. The deeds of my place throw no light on the question because the title stems from a sheriff's sale, early in the '30s.

Additions Shown

The 1850 map of Gettysburg

(County Hist. Soc.) and the Hopkins Map of 1858, show a few very slight increases in the occupied

area - a half dozen buildings north of the R.R. - none at all west of

(now) West street - a few on York

street, east of (now) Liberty street,

and only one on Hanover street,

a few scattered buildings on Baltimore cemetery and on Steinwehr avenue

only three or four at its very beginning.

The Lake Atlas of 1872 shows practically no development east and west

only a very slight development of the south end of Baltimore street.

Th north end shows the greatest development, as far as the crest of the hill with the elimination of the Mummasburg and Harrisburg road

forks on Carlisle street.

This map represents my earliest personal knowledge of the town and will be referred to later.

seems to have been started by Prof.

Says More Women Should Be Senators

Jenkintown, Pa., May 1 (P)—

There should be "at least 48 women"

in the United States Senate, says

Mrs. Elizabeth Jordan, Pittsburgh

housewife seeking the Republican nomination for the seat now held

by Sen. Joseph F. Guffey (D-Pa.).

Guffey is seeking re-election for a third term on the Democratic ticket.

Mrs. Jordan, campaigning on a

"no more war" platform, told a

Beaver college audience last night

future wars might be avoided "if we little people will stick together."

that, save for a few general observations.

On Buford avenue, between Chambersburg street and the foot of Seminary ridge, on the south side,

there were two houses—a little one story building near the junction of the Seminary path (still marked

by its double row of trees, though

I surmise that they are not the original trees) and a black-smith shop a little further out. On the north side, were the Elias Sheeds property, previously referred to, and a bungalow type house near the now Railroad crossing, occupied

by Dr. Tate and Mr. Lee Mumper,

I forget in what sequence.

On Springs avenue, between the Mertz place (still so) and the ridge,

there was nothing; the same on

Middle street, with three small buildings on the old Fairfield road.

On Baltimore street, between the Winebrenner place (corner of the road into the "high school"—the old
